DIVISION PROGRAM MANAGERS DRAW FOR REGIONS

Cheyenne, The Wyoming Division of Victim Services (DVS) Program Managers participated in a version of Jeopardy to earn points to draw for assigned regions.

The DVS recently reorganized their Grant Management Program into three regions. Wyoming Attorney General, Pat Crank served as charismatic game show host. Program Managers answered questions from categories of Wyoming, Who's the Boss & the Division. The DVS director, Julie Tennant Caine expressed "this was the only way to keep the selecting process fair and impartial."

The (DVS) Regional Program Managers (RPM) is an essential part of DVS achieving its mission. The RPM administers federal and state funds and provides technical assistance to support service delivery for victim service providers as well as administering special programs that enhance victim services throughout the state. RPM commitment and strength lies in the success of the victim service providers and are dedicated to providing the tools and resources necessary to maximize their accomplishments.

The DVS is proud to announce the Program Managers assignment for the following regions and congratulations to:
